

My Star Report

So, following up on my last video and all the amazing things we saw in the last prediction period we've come to the Moon's affect in a 4th house Gemini that I warned about. I want to address the most obvious and most recent event that illustrates this because we'll get to see this energy in motion and follow it's evolution for the rest of the month. Remember the concept I've talked about before how target dates are like ripples on a pond. You throw a rock into the pond and it creates an event that ripples out until the ripples disappear. The target date is the center energy which ripples out in both directions of the zodiac...usually about 5-6 days before the date and 5-6 days after. That's the window, that's what creates a prediction window, and the period usually lasts about 11-13 days all together.

This window in particular involving Gemini in the 4th house is rather extraordinary though and that why I called special attention to it's upcoming significance in my last video and in my predictions for concerns in March.

So let's look at this Volcano that erupted in Iceland on Saturday, the last day of my prediction window for Volcanoes (9th-20th). Those predictions were in anticipation of a series of events that would be focused especially in Gemini countries, cities, states, etc., based on the New Moon's energy approaching a 4th house Gemini. And the Moon's movement through the 4th house. We have now, this volcano that erupted Saturday in Iceland. Iceland declared it's independence from a Nazi occupied Denmark June 17, 1944 in it's capital city of Reykjavik. Proclaiming itself a constitutional republic – the birth of a new state, the birth of a new country. Just as the United States recognizes it's birthday as July 4, 1776 when it signed its declaration of independence making the U.S. of course is a Cancer country.

In mundane astrology the 4th house rules the Seas, Farms, Poverty, Borders, Weather, Disasters, Patriotism & Real Estate. Now, the government of Iceland evacuated hundreds of people from their homes near the site of this volcano; they also evacuated 14 Farms. 14 – obviously Gemini's energy at work again, 14 being a multiple of 2, and Farms being ruled by the 4th house.

This energy will actually carry on for another 8-9 days at least. As the Moon moves into the 5th house we find the 5th house occupied by Cancer – Cancer rules the 4th house, so there will be a Hidden effect of the Moon in the 4th house even though the Moon has moved on. Keep in mind also the ripple effect of the Moon's effect from being in the 4th house extending out for about 5-6 days.

Then as the Moon moves into the 6th house we have Mars (explosions) and Leo (ruled by the Sun) and the Sun does what[?]. . .it amplifies energies. The Moon then moves into the 7th house where it will oppose a 1st house Uranus – ruler of weather, shocking events, shocking change, explosive change, volcanoes, hurricanes, tsunamis, tornadoes. An added problem is that Uranus is in Pisces which rules the waters, the oceans, watery hazy energies, the clouds, etc. The waters of the Earth. And in the 7th house we have Virgo, an Earth sign. That all happens on the 28th which is only 2 days before a Full Moon – so – uh oh! So these Earth & weather & water related disasters will continue.

In my next video I'll probably address the affects of Mars, Leo, the Sun, Neptune, and Aquarius in what is to come. I'll post the script for this video for you to download in pdf format on my homepage at mystarreport.com. Until then, Lusk – Out.
